

Curriculum Maps

Friday 28th November
2014

In order for our children to make good progress at school parent teacher communication is very important. Previously we have been circulating half term parent plans detailing the various topics to be covered each half term as a leaflet. We will now make this same information available online in the form of curriculum maps. This way we can be greener and paperless. This also has the added benefit of collating all this information in one place and it makes apparent the progression in each subject across the years. We will no longer be circulating a hard copy. The curriculum maps can be found on our website under curriculum in the parents section.

NOOR UL ISLAM PRIMARY SCHOOL

A poem about Jannah

Everything will be yours,
A charming house with gold and silver,
Rivers with wine, milk, honey and water,
Musk will be smelt,
Anything you like will be there.
So make dua to be there,
There are chocolate lollipops of all shapes and sizes.
Imagine the angels knowing your names.
You can have more than you think,
But sometimes you wonder it's too much
But it's our real, permanent home.

Inter-faith week FEEDBACK

LOOKING FORWARD TO...

"I liked interfaith week because it was interesting and fun, we got to learn about different religions and their similarities and differences. I also learned as Muslims we shouldn't abuse or laugh at other religions."

Kinza Dar Year 6

"The best thing I enjoyed interfaith week was when year 6 got make booklets about different religions. Also when we had the few assemblies and the plays some children presented."

Yumna Mulla Year 6

Academic Review Days:

- Reception & Year 6 Monday 8th December.
- Year 1 & Year 4 Tuesday 9th December.
- Year 2 & Year 5 Wednesday 10th December
- Year 3 Thursday 11th December.

Singing is a very powerful method of teaching children which is often neglected. As long as the words are of a suitable topic and no instruments are used other than a simple drum then this is perfectly permissible, especially for children who require a certain amount play in their learning and light heartedness. Hence we will be starting an optional Anasheed club on Wednesday from 4-5pm. The songs (Nasheeds) we shall be teaching will be carefully selected for the moral guidance they provide.

Phonics and Reading

We always encourage parents to get involved with their child's learning, so we recommend the Home Series of Biff, Chip and Kipper books. Please see the link below for more details. There are also many Oxford Reading E books available online for free, so please do try to make use of them in shaa Allaah.

All children are expected to be reading at least one book at home each week, this could be from the school or local library. Children in KS 1 will be issued with a levelled reading book, however the class guided reading lessons will not be dependant on this reading.
