PROJECT DESCRIPTION

Muslims celebrate the Eid-ul Adha by sacrificing halal animals including sheep, goat, cow, camel etc. during the Islamic month of Dhul Hijjah, the 12th in the Islamic calendar - in pursuit of the tradition (Sunnah) – of Prophet Ibrahim/Abraham (Alaih-es-Salam) once in every year. Islam emphasises on the inclusion of the poor people and non-affording people in such celebrations. The ultimate objective of Qurbani is to invoke the spirit of self-sacrifice shown by Prophet Ibrahim (AS) and to submit oneself to the will of Allah.

In 2025, Muslim Charity sacrificed 28,127 Qurbani units in 13 countries around the world and it benefited hundreds of thousands of deserving brothers and sisters. Families in our selected locations are deprived from basic rights and living under extreme poverty, the Qurbani meat distribution, in most cases, is the only time when they enjoy proper meals with ample quantity of meat.

The project was carried out under strict supervision by our representatives to ensure that the entire process was in accordance with the Shari'ah. A just and equitable distribution of Qurbani meat enhanced the trust and respect for Muslim Charity and its partner organisations alongside helping underprivileged households to enjoy the happy moments of the auspicious occasion by providing them enough Qurbani meat.

QURBANI EXECUTION

The Qurbani/Udhiya took place at the community level and meat was distributed in consultation with community leaders.

The delivery team followed the local government guidelines and the whole process was monitored by Muslim Charity's ground team and partners. Before the distribution the vulnerable people were identified and the animals were procured and kept with the community mobilizers for Udhiya. On the days of Eid the sacrifice was monitored by the community mobilizers within their assigned areas.

PROJECT OBJECTIVE

To celebrate the auspicious day of Eid Ul Adha with our poverty-stricken brothers and sisters and alleviate their suffering through distribution of Qurbani meat.

BENEFICIARIES

These were the neediest people in the locality, including orphans, widows, elderly, disabled and the ultra-poor, that were selected by local representatives. Primarily the meat was distributed at the specified points. However, those who could not attend the gathering due to illness, disability or age related factors; meat was delivered to them at their door steps.

OUTCOME

Distribution of meat amongst the vulnerable people in our Muslim communities showed a tremendous effect. They were mostly neglected and rarely became part of joy and pleasure of Eid Ul Adha.

Qurbani also provided economic opportunities for the local community, especially for farmers, livestock cultivators, butchers and skin traders along with small manufacturers of animal skin products.

VISIBILITY

Qurbani meat was distributed under Noor Ul Islam Trust's banner and the beneficiaries were informed about the kind donation from Noor Ul Islam Trust and their donors.
